

These shoes are only a small part of a larger Celtic design set.

Miles of cording has been couched down on the shoes and around all the Celtic medallions that have been embroidered.

Once all the medallions have been embroidered all the needlework pieces will be attached to an over-tunic in traditional Celtic style and worn with the shoes and any other accessory pieces I decide to make before the finish.

At present – two long bands of medallions and couching for the hem (front & back) of the tunic.

- two shorter bands with one medallion each and lots of couching for the sleeves
- shoes
- larger medallion pieces for the tunic front with couching all around.
- narrow neck band with embroidery & couching.